St. James's, February 18.

THE humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Deputy-Lieutenants, Juſtices of the Peace, Militia Officers, and other Gentlemen of the County of Montgomery; Condoling the Queen upon the Death of his Royal Highneſs, and Congratulating Her Majeſty on the Glorious Succeſſes of the laſt Campaign; was preſented to Her Majeſty by the Earl of Cholmondeley, Lord-Lieutenant of the ſaid County.

Which Addreſs Her Majeſty received very graciouſly.

Turin, January 24. N. S. His Royal Highneſs has taken ſo great care to Recruit his Forces, that all the Troops are already compleat; and, 'tis ſaid, other new Regiments will be raiſed for the Service in the next Campaign. Letters from Dauphiné ſay, that the Harveſt has this laſt Year been ſo bad in France, that they are under apprehenſions of a general ſcarcity of Corn, and have forbidden the Tranſportation of it on the Frontiers, with ſevere Penalties on all who ſhall be found to offend in that kind. They write from Leghorne, that the Fleet of the Allies was returned thither from Barcelona. They have Advices there, that Count Cifuentes, Viceroy of Sardinia, had put Cagliari, and the other Forts of that Iſland, into a good poſture of Defence, and had raiſed a conſiderable Body of Men for the Service of King Charles. His Royal Highneſs having received Advice of the Reduction of Ghent by the Allies, and that the Enemy had abandoned Bruges, ordered Te Deum to be Sung in the Cathedral Church on Sunday laſt, and cauſed all other Demonſtrations of publick Joy to be ſhown on that occaſion. The Winter has been ſo ſevere in the Country that many have dy'd of Cold; but his Royal Highneſs has from time to time ordered a diſtribution of Firing to ſupply the neceſſities of the Poor in this City.

Hamburgh, February 8. N. S. The Differences between the Magiſtracy and People of this City are not in ſo fair a way to a good Concluſion, as we lately had reaſon to hope they were. The Burgeoiſie ſhow great Diſſatisfaction upon the leaſt Diſorder which happens among the Soldiers of the Garriſon, and accuſe their Magiſtrates, as having brought them under a Neceſſity of receiving Troops into the City. Dr. Krumholtz has been more ſtrictly confined of late than at firſt, and it has been feared ſome of his Followers have entered into Meaſures to reſcue him out of Priſon. They write from Poland, that the Marquis de Bonac, Envoy from the Court of France, has uſed all the Arts imaginable to engage the Grand General of the Crown in the Intereſts of King Staniſlaus; but has had no Succeſs in that Negotiation. Thoſe Letters add, that the Account we have lately had of a Battel between the Swedes and Muſcovites is not confirmed. The extream Cold has made the Plague ceaſe in ſome Parts of Upper Poland, but it has appeared again in others. It is computed, that the Sickneſs has ſwept away, in the Town of Warſaw only, 17000 Perſons.

Hague, February 15. N. S. Our laſt Advices from Switzerland ſay, that the Cantons of Zurich and Berne were come to a Reſolution to ſend Deputies to Arau, where they will take into Conſideration the Emperor's Letter concerning the Affair of Tockenbourg, and the Memorial of Count Trautmanſdorf on the ſame occaſion. They write from Bazil of the 30th of the laſt Month, that the great Winds, which had blown for ſome Days, had put them in Apprehenſions that the Snows on the Alps would be forced down, and cauſe great Inundations. We hear from Berlin that his Pruſſian Majeſty is intirely recover'd of his late Indiſpoſition. A Gentleman of that King's Bed-chamber has lately been diſpatched to the Court of Saxony, but his Inſtructions are kept ſecret; the Prince of Anhalt-Deſſau continues to ſollicit his Majeſty for the Command of the Pruſſian Troops, either in Italy or the Low-Countries; but it is ſaid the King is ſo well ſatisfied with his preſent Generals in both places, that the Prince will not ſucceed in his Application.

Falmouth, February 13. Yeſterday ſailed hence for Lisbon the Queen Packet Boat, Captain Culverdon Commander, with two Mails.

Plimouth, February 15. Yeſterday ſailed my Lord Durſly in her Majeſty's Ship the Kent, with the Plimouth, Monk and Medway, to the Weſtward; and the Exeter and Chatham to the Eaſtward. This Day ſailed alſo the Crown to the Eaſtward. The Medway hath juſt now ſent in a French Privateer of 12 Guns.

Dartmouth, February 15. The Weather hath been ſo violent in theſe Parts, and ſtormy with Winds and Snow, that we have not had a Veſſel put into this Harbour for almoſt two Months, 'till this Day, when there came in a Dutch Pink and a Dutch Dogger, both from Bourdeaux, laden with Wine and Brandy, bound for Holland.

Cowes, February 16. The Fleet for Lisbon, under Dutch Convoy, paſſed thro' our Road this Morning, conſiſting of 40 Sail.

Portſmouth, February 17. Yeſterday the Dutch Convoy of 9 Men of War ſailed from Spithead with about 80 Sail of Merchantmen thro' the Needles to the Weſtward, with a freſh Gale which ſtill continues. There are at Spithead her Majeſty's Ships the Royal Oak, Bedford, Newcaſtle, Goſport and Saphir, with 4 Dutch Men of War.

Yarmouth, February 19. On the 16th Inſtant ſailed out of our Road her Majeſty's Ships the Ruby and Greyhound, with divers laden Colliers, Coaſters and Ruſſia Ships under their Convoy for the River of Thames. There continue in our Road her Majeſty's Ships the Falkſtone and Advice-Prize.

Deal, February 19. Here lye her Majeſty's Ships the Norfolk, Revenge, Dreadnought, Guernſey, Garland, Queenborough, Goſport, Tartar, and Mary-Gally, with ſeveral outward-bound Merchant Ships.

There are three Mails due from Holland.
